UMT Proposal Shelved Until Next Congress

House Action Sends Training Bill Back To Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bitterly debated Universal Military Training (UMT) appeared today to be a dead issue, for the next few months at least.

The House yesterday shelved an administration bill to start UMT. It voted 236-162 to send the measure back to committee, climaxing a dramatic and unusual session.

Rep. Vinson (R-Ga.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, then killed off any immediate chance for reconsideration. He told newsmen his committee would not bring up any more UMT legislation during this session.

Sen. McFarland of Arizona, Democratic leader in the Senate, said that in view of the House action the Senate probably would not consider UMT before the end of the 82nd Congress.

Proponents Optimistic

But proponents insisted that UMT was not permanently dead.

"We'll start all over again in the 83rd Congress, after the election," Vinson said.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the senate armed services committee, another strong supporter, said in a statement "it will be little short of a national tragedy" if the house action "means the death of UMT legislation."

Donald R. Wilson, national commander of the American Legion, commented: "I can imagine a large number of people are happy tonight and most of them are within the confines of the Soviet Union."

Wilson interpolated this observation in a speech he read at the Legion's national rehabilitation conference. He said the fight for UMT is "by no means over."

The climactic roll call cut across party lines. The motion to recommit the bill was supported by 155 Republicans, 81 Democrats; opposed by 131 Democrats, 30 Republicans and one independent.

E. L. Casey Is Named To Mullins Staff

Mullins Manufacturing Corp., officials today announced the appointment of E. L. Casey to the company's operating staff under Frank Beauregard, vice president.

Casey comes to Mullins from Canton where he was vice president in charge of manufacturing for the E. W. Bliss Co. He previously had been associated with the Atomic Energy Commission, the California Shipbuilding Corp., Westinghouse, and the Babcock-Wilcox Co.

A native of St. Louis, Casey was graduated from Washington University there in 1926 with a mechanical engineering degree. He joined Babcock-Wilcox Co. in Barbenton.

In 1930, Casey was named assistant to the plant manager of Babcock-Wilcox's seamless tube division in Beaver Falls. Later he was in charge of that company's fabricating plant in Nevada. He returned to Barbenton in 1935. In 1940 he joined Westinghouse's market research division.

At the outset of the war in 1941, Casey was called to the California Shipbuilding Corp., in Los Angeles, where he was division manager.

After the war, Casey held a key administrative engineering position with the Atomic Energy Commission in Los Angeles.

In 1951 he was named to the vice president's post with the Bliss Co.

Casey, who is married and has two children, David, 16, and Betty, 14, will reside in Salem.

Mother Of Dead Marine Hero Prefers To Keep His Medal

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Lee Becker prefers to keep the Air Medal awarded posthumously to her son who died in Korea. Further, she protests the idea of any mother's returning such a medal to the President.

Mrs. Becker expressed herself in a statement written to the Kalamazoo Gazette.

She said to return a medal is "one of the most unpatriotic gestures any true American could make."

"That's why, as an American mother whose son fell in battle, I feel it is my duty to protest the actions of those persons who are attracting nationwide publicity by sending medals to the President of the United States with the insulting remark that he killed their sons," she said.

Mrs. Becker said such "twisted thinking" serves only to lower servicemen's morale, "degrade the government," and aid Communist propaganda.

"While not everyone agrees with the Administration," she said, "it is still the American government and deserves the respect and support of its people."

"For every person who lets politics tarnish the memory of men who died in battle, there are thousands of parents who treasure the Purple Hearts and medals awarded their brave sons. I think it's time someone spoke up for us."

Mrs. Becker's son, Marine Sgt. James Becker, was killed in action May 30, 1951. He was a reservist and had been recalled to duty. He left his wife and two children. He was Mrs. Becker's only child.

Kyodo News Agency reported the quake left a fishing village submerged and pushed up a new 40-foot hill. Both were on Hokkaido, northernmost island of Japan.

Japanese government agencies reported incomplete surveys showed the quake and ten-foot high tidal waves caused this damage:

1. Railway tracks were twisted and snarled in places. One section of 500 yards of track was swallowed by the earth.
2. An uncounted number of fishing boats were sunk, 44 damaged and two piers smashed on northeastern Honshu, main island of Japan.
3. Several coal miners were killed—two in a mine cave-in and five when their homes collapsed. Coal mining operations in Hokkaido were disrupted by floods and broken power lines.
4. Tidal waves washed away 277 houses in Hamanaka village on Hokkaido, leaving 1,600 persons homeless. Reports from other villages placed the number of destroyed homes at around 2,500.

Acheson Reversed Findings On Clubb

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today he reversed the finding by a State Department Board that career diplomat Oliver Edmund Clubb was a security risk.

Acheson told a news conference he took full personal responsibility for the action, which permitted Clubb to retire from the foreign service on a pension. Clubb resigned the same day, Feb. 11, that the department announced he had been cleared.

Acheson stressed that Clubb was cleared of any reasonable doubt of his loyalty, even though the board had found him to be a security risk.

Clubb was director of Chinese affairs in the department. He said he retired from his $12,400 job because the loyalty-security investigation had "seriously damaged" his future career prospects.

Council To Study Plea By Mayor That City Hall Site Become Metered Lot

Mayor Harry M. Vincent asked Council at its meeting Tuesday night to consider the use of the old City Hall site as a metered parking lot once the abandoned municipal building has been torn down.

A motion by Safety Committee Chairman George H. Bowman Jr. that the mayor's request be complied with was not seconded and Council President Ned Massa referred the matter to the lands and buildings committee for further study.

Mayor Vincent declared that conversion of the land into a metered parking lot would provide the city with a source of income for years.

He said that, although he wasn't sure exactly how much money the property would bring should it be sold, he was confident that such a sum would be greatly exceeded in time by the accrued profits realized from parking meters.

He advocated that the parking spaces there be governed by time limits exceeding the two-hour periods enforced on the other metered parking places in the city. Such facilities have been needed by the city for some time, he stated.

Issue Still Unsettled

Mr. Massa, in referring the request to the lands and buildings committee, said he felt that it was premature to make a definite decision regarding the final disposal of the lot, since it is still the subject of legal controversy.

Other members of Council concurred that a decision on the matter should be postponed until the dispute over ownership of the land is settled in court.

Mayor Vincent, in his report, also informed Council that he had instructed City Solicitor Walter J. Hunston to draw up the necessary legislation increasing the membership of the City Planning Commission to seven persons from the present five.

According to state law, he said, the head of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission should be a member of ex officio of the Planning Commission, and such was not the case at this time.

Mayor Vincent stated that besides the addition of the Park Commission chairman to the Planning Commission, he would like to add another citizen to the three regular members.

Other business matters taken up by Council at its meeting included: Approval of a motion by Councilman Carl Abe that the traffic ordinance passed by Council last year be immediately published.

Passage of the ordinance permitting the city to advertise for the sale of the fire department's old fire truck.

Canada Town Isolated; People Pray For Relief

NORTH RUSTICO, P.E.I. (AP) — This snowbound fishing village shared its last food and fuel supplies yesterday and prayed that relief would come soon.

A woman gave birth to a child at the height of the blizzard Monday. Fishermen pushed through 18 miles of 15-foot drifts to bring in a doctor.

The village has been isolated since a series of wintry storms began a week ago in the Canadian Maritimes. A snowplow, unsuccessful yesterday in its effort to reach the village, will try again today.

An interesting program has been prepared by the American Legion Quaker City Band for presentation to the public when the band presents its sixth annual winter concert Thursday night at 8:15 in the High School auditorium.

The band will be directed by George D. Chappell, with Attorney Alfred Fitch serving as narrator.

The program will start with the assembly and presentation of colors by the Legion Memorial squad, Band Color Guard and majorettes, John Herman Jr., commander.

Eisenhower is caught in a serious mood by the camera as he chats with Jean Letourneau, minister of Associated States in fallen government of Edgar Faure, during a reception at the Elysee palace given by French President Vincent Auriol. Later General Eisenhower urged U. S. congressional approval of universal military training bill, calling it a question of "utmost gravity for all our citizens."

City Engineer's Absence At Meetings Arouses Council Ire

A stormy period at Tuesday's City Council session culminated in the passage of a motion instructing the clerk to send letters to several city officials, requesting them to appear at future meetings.

The wrath of the solons occurred after the reading of a two-page report, submitted by City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff, dealing with the city's sanitary sewers.

Councilman Michael Schuller, at the previous session, had requested that the engineer be instructed to submit a report detailing the condition of the sewage system and recommendations as to how it could be improved.

Following the reading, Councilman Carl Abe asked to whom any questions concerning the report could have been addressed, in case there had been some points which needed clarification. He said that the absence of city department heads at meetings impeded the discussion and passage of necessary legislation.

Councilman Robert K. Carpenter declared that in his opinion city officials should attend the sessions as part of their office duties. He said that it was inconceivable that in such a small town, council and municipal heads "should have to use the U.S. mails for communication."

The officials who councilmen feel should attend all meetings include the mayor, safety-service director, city solicitor, treasurer, auditor, engineer, council clerk and water superintendent. The mayor has been a faithful attendee.

The engineer's report on Salem's sewage system was referred to the sewer committee for further consideration.

Mother Attempts To Kill Children

CANTON (AP)—Doctors scheduled a sanity test at Massillon State Hospital today for Mrs. Catherine Laughery, 28. Police say she attacked her two small daughters with a claw hammer.

Then, police continued, she tried to shove the screaming children—Joyce, 8, and Mary Margaret, 6—into the flaming furnace of their home.

Joyce was in critical condition at Mercy Hospital with a fractured skull, head cuts and severe body burns. Mary Margaret was in serious condition at the same hospital with a possible fractured skull and burns.

The mother was committed to Massillon State Hospital only a few hours after the attack yesterday, at the request of her husband, Wilfred, 32, an employee of the Diebold Co.

Mrs. Laughery herself advised police of what had happened. Mysteriously, she telephoned the Central Police Station: "I almost killed the children."

Philippines On Guard

Against Bubonic Plague

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines government announced today all ships arriving from Korea, China or Hong Kong will be disinfected at the quarantine station in Manila Bay as a precaution against bubonic plague.

The order was inspired by Communist broadcasts that bubonic plague is sweeping North Korea. The Reds charge the United Nations command started it with germ warfare. The Allies say the charge is preposterous.

Will Supply Names If U. N. Meets Their Demands, They Say

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The Communists admitted today they hold unreported prisoners and tried to use them as a club in Korean truce negotiations.

The Reds said they would supply the names of these prisoners "in due time"—but only after the Allies furnished data the Communists have been demanding.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby reported sharply that the U.N. Com-

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Administration has decided against any move to carry the Korean war to China even if the truce talks collapse.

Officials said that is the present basic policy, but how it is applied if and when a collapse occurs will undoubtedly depend on what the Communists do and what the American people think about it.

In the highest levels of the defense and State Departments it is recognized, officials privately concede, that popular indignation could force the United States in some circumstances to take action which would either contradict or diverge from its present policy.

mand would furnish additional prisoner data on an exchange basis or not at all.

The Red admission followed a demand by Libby that the Communists account for 174 additional prisoners. Most of these are Americans. Some are British.

This makes a total of 1,621 United Nations soldiers and 50,000 Republic of Korea (ROK) troops for which the U.N. has demanded an accounting. None of

Voters Puzzled In New Hampshire

Campaign Stepped Up By Democrats, GOP

(By The Associated Press)

What they're doing and saying in the presidential campaign in general:

Democrats and Republicans are stepping up their efforts to win the first lap in the preferential primary sweepstakes. That's next Tuesday's election in New Hampshire.

Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer, reported from Concord he found evidence indicating the voters are undecided on whom to choose, in either the Republican or Democratic column.

Democrats: Scott Lucas of Illinois, former Senate majority leader, opened President Truman's New Hampshire campaign by saying the President is "invaluable to us in this hour of peril" and must be persuaded to run again.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, launched his windup campaign in New Hampshire with handshaking visits to Newmarket, Dover and Portsmouth.

Oregon Democrats announced that "after conversations with Washington" they had decided not to file Truman as a candidate in the state's May primary. They indicated the name of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois would be filed instead.

Republicans: Harold E. Stassen, campaigning in New Hampshire where he concedes he is third choice, said he found the voters somewhat apathetic to his appeals.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts carried Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's New Hampshire campaign to Clare.

Income Tax Office Extends Schedule

The Internal Revenue is giving taxpayers two breaks in meeting this month's deadline for income tax returns.

James W. Byrnes, collector at the Salem office in the Postoffice building, announced that he would remain open the next two Saturdays to help handle the last-minute rush.

He said that although many persons have filed their returns, the usual late-comers are anticipated. His office will be open this Saturday and also Saturday, March 15.

Because March 15 falls on Saturday—technically not a working day—returns won't be late if they're turned in or mailed before midnight Monday, March 17.

Purchase Of New Parking Meters OK'd

A recommendation by Finance Committee Chairman Fred Koenreich that the mayor and safety-service director be authorized to purchase any amount of parking meters, not to exceed 100, was approved by City Council Tuesday.

M. Kenreich made his recommendation following a report by Mayor Harry M. Vincent during which he stressed the need for the meters. He stated that the city's income from the parking devices was steadily decreasing, due to the malfunction of many of the meters which were old and practically worn out.

Mayor Vincent said that one traffic policeman was spending most of his time making such repairs as were possible, but that this was a make-shift process since many of the meters required parts which were no longer available.

He added that the purchase of the devices would not impose a hardship on the city's finances since most meter companies are willing to take payment for them out of the receipts collected once they were installed.

Fines, Licenses Net City $2,277 In February

A total of $2,277.30 was collected by the city through fines and licenses during February, Mayor Harry M. Vincent's monthly report to Council revealed Tuesday.

A breakdown of the figure shows that $1,723.50 was derived from city-state fines; $446.60, city fines; $67.20, city costs; $36, licenses and $4, building permits. As in the past few months, the major amount of the city-state total was accumulated through fines assessed truckers on overload charges.

Secret Groups Operate Behind Communist Parties In Europe

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(Second of a Series)

VIENNA (AP)—Behind every open Communist party in Europe is a hidden inner organization with strings leading to Moscow. The Cominform coordinates the overall drive to dominate Western Europe. One of the Cominform's principal helpers is the World Federation of Trade Unions, working to coordinate the work of front organizations.

The WFTU, with headquarters in Vienna, serves as a transmission belt for the Cominform.

The WFTU is housed in a building within the Ringstrasse, the international section of divided Vienna. The building, at 3 Sailerstrasse, is also used by Soviet officials of the various industries the U.S.S.R. has taken from Austria in the Russian version of Potsdam.

WFTU is not registered with the Austrian government, as it ordinarily should be under Austrian law. Its foreign officers have asked the police for residence permits and have been refused, on the ground that the WFTU is not a legal organization in Austria. This ordinarily would mean the WFTU would have to clear out.

BUT THE WFTU HAS no intention of getting out. Vienna is entirely too valuable to it and to its Communist bosses. Vienna is a western city of great culture, a city respected all over the civilized world. It makes an ideal point, from the Communist view, for launching various propaganda drives and for coordinating Communist efforts.

So the WFTU's foreign officers appealed the police decision to the security director, the next authority up the ladder from the police. If necessary, the WFTU simply will ignore the Austrian order and remain under Soviet protection. Foreign officers of the WFTU live in the Soviet sector, under Soviet protection. Their building in the Ring is leased from "The Society for the Promotion of Cultural and Economic Relations between Austria and the U.S.S.R." called the Austro-Soviet Society for short.

The WFTU office is on the second floor. The rest is occupied by Soviet officials of such enterprises as the distributing agency for oil from the Zistersdorf fields, which the Russians have taken over.

THE WFTU WAS founded in 1945, when trade unions, noting that the United Nations charter provided for an international organization of workers, sought to build such an organization. The American CIO and the British Trade Unions Congress (TUC) were charter members. The American Federation of Labor refused to have anything to do with an organization which included Soviet trade unions, contending the Soviet unions were creatures of the state.

This first WFTU fell apart as the Communists more and more dominated it. The final break was in a debate over the Marshall Plan in 1949. The American CIO and the British TUC, along with other western trade union organizations, broke away, and the rival ICFTU (International Confederation of Free Trade Unions) was founded in London. On paper, the WFTU would be the biggest, with the millions claimed as members for the Soviet Union, where the state forces workers to be members of an organization which serves only the state.

The WFTU also serves the Kremlin well. It is involved in every peace offensive propaganda attempt of the U.S.S.R. It is a training ground for agitation and strike techniques. It is a sounding board for every Soviet project.

Giuseppe Di Vittorio of Italy is president of WFTU. The Communists who shuttle back and forth between western capitals and Vienna are in the main a shadowy group little known outside the party. It is only for the big shows that the big names show up publicly.

FOR THE BIG "peace congress" meetings, the meetings of the Federation of Democratic Women and other similar front groups, the Communists push to the fore names more likely to be connected with the arts or science—useful people who are not necessarily tried and true Stalinists, instead of centering the limelight on themselves.

Thus, a person like Frederic Joliot-Curie, the French physicist, or perhaps a writer or an artist with Communist leanings will be used as the front.

The WFTU, pretending to be solely a labor union and not a Communist weapon, attempts through its various affiliates and its slogans about labor rights to attract workers from the non-Communist unions. The WFTU already has been extremely active in this way in the Middle East, tying the "rights of workers" to the "fight against imperialism."

BUT THE WFTU fools nobody who has followed the Communist drive. It is closely linked with all Kremlin projects outside the U.S.S.R. It helped organize the World Peace Council. It has a hand in every international propaganda meeting with Red overtones.

The recent international conference of the Red-dominated metal workers union in Vienna is a synthesis of all the labor drives pushed by WFTU.

The Metal Workers Union first issued resolutions demanding higher pay, shorter hours, paid vacations, old age pensions, social security and many other things. Then it unmasked itself. It proceeded to pass resolutions for a five-power peace pact, the insistent cry of the Soviet peace offensive. It opposed remilitarization of the West, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and rearming in West Germany.

The metal workers are targets of, a particularly concentrated drive throughout Western Europe. They are the key workers in the western defense program. Communist domination of them could play havoc with the western program.

Directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Jaycee clubrooms. Wilbur Schnurrenberger, vice president, will be in charge.

ABSENCE MADE THEIR HEARTS GROW FONDER—A romance lasting 50 years is culminated in Atlanta, Ga., as John Denton, 76, places the ring on the finger of his bride, Mrs. Bertha Dillen, 71. When they became engaged in Indiana in 1898, Bertha's parents told her she was too young to marry, and Denton joined the army. After the man she finally married died, Mrs. Dillen traced Denton through army records, and came to Atlanta, from Indiana, to marry him.

Lausche Seeks More Federal CD Funds

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today that he is going to try to get more federal funds for civil defense needs in Ohio cities.

He said several cities failed to meet Monday's deadline for getting federal money.

Federal civil defense officials made available to Ohio $1,565,000 to buy medical supplies for use in event of atomic bomb attacks. The money will be distributed to cities which put up an equal sum.

The state posted $400,000. It will receive a similar amount from the federal total. That will give Ohio $800,000 to stockpile medical supplies. Dr. William E. Warner, Ohio civil defense director, said cities have put up enough money to match the remaining $1,165,000 of federal money.

Girl Who Took Baby Found In Youngstown

The girl told detectives she wanted a baby of her own.

Mrs. Roy Zimmerman entertained the Lend-A-Hand Club Thursday evening. A Valentine grab-bag was enjoyed. Mrs. Lynn Ferguson won the hostess prize. Predict Most Women Redhaired By Autumn

CHICAGO (UP)—A beauty expert said today a "big trend toward elegance" among American women will produce a predominantly red haired feminine population by autumn.

Miriam Cordwell, New York, predicted that half of the women in the United States will be red-haired by fall. Miss Cordwell said the trend is already under way and it "really is snowballing."

She said colors would range from "black cherry" to auburn, replacing last year's popular "dusty look."

Faulty Flaps, Engine Failure Caused Crash

NICE, France (AP)—Officials conclude today that faulty flaps combined with a double engine failure caused Monday's plane crash here which took the lives of 37 persons. They discarded a theory that the plane was downed by a flight of seagulls.

An investigation of the wreckage of the Air France airliner showed that the ailerons were not in a position to give a lift to the craft. With an experienced pilot at the controls, it was assumed that he had sought to put his flaps in such a position.

Simultaneously, the two left wing engines had conked out, an examination of the propellers showed. Thus, the plane, flying only on its two right wing engines, its lift unaided by outward flaps, was virtually doomed to crash.

School Bible Reading Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bible reading in the public schools may continue, the Supreme Court says, at least until someone comes along with a showing of genuine injury.

By vote of 6-3, the high tribunal yesterday tossed out an attack on a New Jersey law which requires daily Bible reading in the public schools of that state.

The court said the two persons who complained had demonstrated no real harm in a legal sense.

In another major decision, the court said New York state may go ahead with enforcement of its anti-Communist teacher law. By a 6-3 vote, the tribunal upheld constitutionality of the statute which bars subversive persons from employment in the state's school system.

Gains Made In TB Warfare But Much Remains To Be Done

Twenty-five Columbiana County residents died of tuberculosis in 1951 without ever hearing of the "TB pills"—Rimifon and Hy-drazid.

And the Ohio Department of Health says tuberculosis will claim many more lives before the effectiveness of the drugs is known.

In a letter to all tuberculosis associations in Ohio, Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, chief of the division of tuberculosis and chronic diseases for the State Department of Health, sets forth the little information available.

"We should all realize very little is known about the two new drugs. We have newspaper reports that they were used on a comparatively few patients, but numerous questions may go unanswered for several years."

He asks, "How effective are these drugs against tuberculosis in its various stages?" Will they die out for a while and then re-appear with even greater force?"

"In the event a tuberculosis cavity is cleared of bacilli, will the cavity heal or will surgery be necessary?" How and where will patients be treated and for how long?" "Will the strength and vital capacity of former tuberculosis patients be restored so they can work, or will more rehabilitation be needed?"

Many Unknown Cases
Ohio still has 20,000 unknown cases of tuberculosis that must be found and treated, Dr. Dwork said.

"While new drugs might alter the plan of attack, it does not eliminate the need for attack and would make imperative an increase in the intensity of our case finding, treatment and rehabilitation efforts," he added. The annual report of the Columbiana County Tuberculosis Control Program lists 194 new cases reported last year.

Of these, 56 were moderately advanced while 37 were considered minimal and 24 far advanced.

There were 124 active or questionably active cases. Seventy were termed inactive. Only 12 of the 25 deaths occurred in sanatoriums, the report shows.

X-Ray Work Goes On
Seventy-two patients were admitted to sanatoriums, but 26 left against medical advice. Twenty-nine patients were discharged with the doctor's okay and four were transferred.

Of 10,916 persons receiving small chest X-rays in the County Health League's mass survey, 274 were referred to the Health Center in Lisbon for follow-up.

The Health Center made 2,775 large X-rays last year, including 1,201 new patients. A breakdown of age groups X-rayed: 422 under 15; 1,433 in the 15-45 group, and 920 over 45.

The control program is operated by the County Health Department under authority of the county commissioners and in cooperation with the Health Departments of Salem, East Liverpool, Wellsville and East Palestine.

54 Persons Injured When Trains Collide

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Fifty-four persons were injured, none seriously, last night when a crowded commuter train from Chicago crashed into the rear end of an empty train in the Gary station.

All the injured were riding in the first car of a four-car Chicago, South Shore and South Bend Electric Express train. Only six of the injured remained in hospitals. Others were discharged after being treated for cuts and bruises.

Police said ice on a switch may have caused the express train, which carried about 200 passengers, to take the wrong siding. The other train which had just discharged all passengers was in the siding, west of the station.

Edward G. Robinson Wishes Son "Good Luck"

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Those harsh words by which actor Edward G. Robinson banished his 19-year-old son, Eddie Jr., when he eloped with actress Frances Chisholm two weeks ago have been reconsidered.

Starring in the play, "Darkness of the Noon" here, father Robinson said last night that young Robinson had spent last weekend with his parents and "the boy and I have our own understanding. I hope it works out all right."

The 21-year-old bride was not at the peace parley, but Robinson said, "I wish them good luck."

In its first century, Studebaker turned out 7,130,874 vehicles. Seen in background here are Studebaker's first wagon, and the company's first auto—a 1902 electric.

38 Farms Quarantined To Nip Anthrax Spread

WASHINGTON C. H. (INS)—Thirty-eight Ohio farms were quarantined today in the state's effort to halt the outbreak of anthrax.

The latest cases of the disease, usually fatal to livestock, were reported in Fayette County at Union Township.

Thirty-five farms in Clinton County and three in Fayette County have been closed to date. Anthrax, which also affects humans, stalled market sales in Wilmington Tuesday. R. O. Smith, executive secretary of the Independent Livestock Marketing Association Inc., said hog buyers failed to show up for sales. Recent outbreaks of the disease have been confined to hogs.

Landlord Convicted Of Murdering Tenant

CLEVELAND (AP)—Landlord John R. Harris, 47, who used a dog as a "witness," was convicted last night of murdering his tenant, Samuel Reed, 56.

Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick sentenced him to a life term in the penitentiary. During the trial, the victim's German shepherd dog was brought to court. Harris tried to show he acted in self-defense against the attacks of a "vicious" dog.

However, the dog was docile in court, even accepting a piece of candy from a juror. Jurors said after the conviction that the dog did not influence their verdict.

Milligan Heard By Service Clubs

State roadside parks should be educational as well as recreational, Fred J. Milligan of Westerville, candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, declared Tuesday in a speech before the Salem Rotary Club.

Milligan proposed the erection of suitable descriptive markers in the state's 285 roadside parks. These markers, he said, would be sponsored locally by civic groups who would pay for them. The State Highway Department, which is responsible for the roadside parks, would erect and maintain the markers.

Milligan said the State Highway Department has already approved such a plan and several local communities have agreed to sponsor the markers in nearby roadside parks. The markers, Milligan said, would carry a brief description of what is most important in that area.

Speaking in the evening before the Lions Club at the Lape Hotel, Milligan urged greater emphasis be placed on the teaching of local and state history in the schools as a means of creating a greater citizen interest in public affairs.

"Thousands of Ohio's children pass through the schools without receiving an adequate knowledge of local and state history. Too much time is devoted to European and ancient history at the expense of telling the story of the local community and Ohio," he said.

2 Young Men Sought For Columbus Murder

COLUMBUS (AP)—Police seek two young men as suspects in the murder early yesterday of Allen S. Drake, 43, on Route 40 near Buckeye Lake. Officers said two young men took a cab from Buckeye Lake to Newark about half an hour after Drake was found dying along the highway.

Drake's car was found near the lake. Drake twice had been convicted of numbers writing in Columbus.

Main Event

EVERY political observer discovers eventually that the real rivalry in partisan politics is not between parties but among the members of one party.

The obvious reason for this is the fact the party leaders set a higher value on their position inside the party than they set on the party's position inside the government. Losing an election is a political disappointment, but losing a party fight is a personal tragedy.

This fact suggests why the main event in politics in 1952 may be the fight inside the Democratic party for control of the organization. The coalition which formed behind Franklin D. Roosevelt to keep him from carrying out the party platform of 1932 is breaking up.

When Georgia's Sen. Russell announced he would seek the presidential nomination, it amounted to a declaration of war against all the interlopers who moved in on the southern Democratic core of the party after 1933. It is not impossible that the Democrats will do much fighting, the Republicans will be permitted to win by default.

Clean Shirts?

SOME Farm Bureau officials in California are having fun with a drive to send members of Congress a million shirts. The idea is that taxes are taking everything but the shirts off the taxpayers' backs, so taxpayers may as well send their shirts to Washington and be done with it.

A similar gag was tried when "bundles" were sent to congressmen—and a skeptic is privileged to wonder what these gags are supposed to prove.

Take those Farm Bureau officials in California, for example? Are they in favor of discontinuing federal stabilization of agriculture? Do they refuse to seek federal aid in any form?

When the lid is off the pork barrel in Washington, do they adopt resolutions in opposition to seeking U. S. funds for hospitals, airports, government-financed factories and all other forms of federal spending?

Are they unalterably opposed to federal subsidies in any form—to foreign economic and military assistance—to an ever-stronger Navy, Air Force and Army? Or are they just trying to blame Congress for doing what the constituents of congressmen demand?

Truth Could Make Men Free

SINCE this country has built a truth ship and dedicated it with a presidential message to Red Russia and Red China because Americans believe the truth could make men free, the truth about the truth may as well be faced.

The truth is usually at a disadvantage when it must compete with a lie because the lie is usually more interesting.

Thus, the Communists are telling Red Chinese and Red Koreans that the United Nations is using germ warfare in Korea. This is a lie. But it is infinitely easier for millions of people afraid of typhus and other epidemic diseases to believe the lie than the truth, which is that the United Nations is not doing what Communist propagandists accuse it of doing.

The entire Communist conspiracy is built on systematic misrepresentation of facts. It is not trying to advance Communism. It is not a movement in behalf of workers. Like British socialism, it is a movement for the benefit of politicians who exploit workers because they want the workers' votes.

The new truth ship which President Truman has launched with a message of truth to Red Russia and Red China is as potent a weapon in the battle for men's mind as can be conceived. But the systematic falsehoods of the Reds have gained so much momentum it may take a couple of generations and perhaps a war to slow them down.

Deductible Expenses

IF IT'S EVER established as a principle in tax legislation that money paid to baby-sitters by working widows and widowers is a deductible item for income taxes, the lid will be blown off.

It should be blown off.

Income tax laws are rigged to the disadvantage of citizens who must meet certain expenses in order to make a living, yet are not permitted to deduct these expenses from their taxable incomes. They range from the cost of clothing a stenographer must provide for herself to hold a job to the cost of hiring day help when the boss is invited to dinner.

If individuals had the same rights as profit-seeking organizations, items like these could be deducted from taxable income. If members of the House of Representatives find merit in a proposal put before them by Rep. Edna Kelly of New York to give widows and widowers a break on baby-sitting expenses, 100 expenses in the same category could be called to the taxmakers' attention.

'Captive' Industry

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Machine Tool Industry Is An Example

WASHINGTON THE so-called "stretchout" of America's defense program is due to no small extent to the fact that the machine tool program was bungled. That is why America has not realized her goals in aircraft, in tanks, or in other major items of the armament program. But it is the long-range impact of government action—its ultimate effect on industry as a whole—that gives the machine tool builders of today basis for anxiety.

It is interesting to note the comments made by Charles J. Stilwell, president of the Warner & Swasey Company of Cleveland—not the largest but one of the important machine tool companies of the country. He says in his report to stockholders just released:

"ON THE BASIS of present trends, the machine tool industry is rapidly becoming a 'captive' of government."

"The government dictates from whom orders may be taken and to whom the finished machines may be shipped. The government controls the materials that may be purchased, and even specifies the finish of the product. The government dictates what wages and salaries may be paid. The government sets the prices and so decides how much profit can be made. After the profit has been figured, excess profits taxes take their toll. Then, from what is left, renegotiation finally determines arbitrarily what the company may retain."

"Everyone will agree that some of these controls are necessary in a period such as this. Much of the situation making some of the controls necessary could have been avoided, but for all practical purposes this industry is involved in an all-out war."

"Ours is a highly competitive industry and is the foundation of the American competitive system. Through engineering competition it forces the benefits of our great industrial system out into the American standard of living."

"WHAT WILL HAPPEN to competition if tools of competition are withheld or are built only as directed by government, allocated by government, and owned by government? Competing companies seeking to gain larger sales and broader markets by cutting costs and prices will not be able to go into the open market to buy the machine tools needed to do this job. Machine tool companies will be assured of business arising from government—but industry in general will be slowly starved of the tools upon which have been founded the American standard of living and our industrial might.

"Certainly, looking toward the future, government decontrol of machine tools as soon as possible would seem to be imperative."

"Tax incentives on behalf of modernization, plus decontrol of the machine tool industry, would reverse the present trend toward concentration in government of ownership of the tools of production. Privately owned companies, instead of government owned, would buy the machine tools and keep the productive equipment up-to-date. Privately owned companies would become the arsenals of the free democracy. These privately owned plants would be utilized for the competitive purposes for which the tools were designed; and, a continuing market thereby assured, the machine tool industry would make certain its readiness to meet any national emergency."

Mr. Stilwell's own report shows, incidentally, that with a jump in sales from about $18,000,000 in 1950 to about $33,000,000 in 1951, the net earnings after taxes increased only $250,000. This was because of the federal tax increase. Yet the company had to borrow considerably to take care of increased inventories required.

SOMETHING of the same sort is happening in aircraft. The Douglas Aircraft Company shows a 75 per cent increase in sales and a tax bite amounting to $14.65 per share in 1951, as compared with a tax bite of $7.90 per share in 1950. Yet, to take care of the needed expansion desired by the government, the Douglas Company had to borrow huge sums from the banks to finance receivables, plant property, and inventories.

These risks incurred in borrowing huge sums or in trying to raise equity capital cannot be undertaken indefinitely by American business with a rapidly diminishing profit margin. Unless on investments, the end result on investments, the end result may be that the aircraft business may become "captive" too.

They must be smiling in Moscow as they see America's powerful industrial machine throttled by a bungling government, which is ignoring incentives as well as investor confidence—the keystone to industrial expansion.

Health To You

'D.T.'s' Can Be Tragic

A SAD letter comes from a reader, a portion of which is quoted as follows:

"My husband has been a drinker for the past twenty-five years."

Lately he has been getting spells in the early morning and I think they are delirium tremens. I wake up about 4:30 a. m. to find him shaking and trembling, his eyes rolling from side to side, and his mouth working hard as though trying to get breath.

"My questions are: Is delirium tremens dangerous? Can it be cured? Does a man get violent with delirium tremens? What can be done for him? How will I know if my husband gets them? Does he need a doctor when he gets them?"

It would seem that this woman's husband is truly a victim of delirium tremens, which is one of the penalties sometimes paid by the chronic heavy drinker of alcoholic beverages.

An attack takes different forms, and is sometimes violent and other times merely involves visions of things like snakes under the bed or pink elephants on the wall. It has been truly called the "shaking madness."

An attack of delirium tremens is a most unpleasant experience. Symptoms come on quickly over a period of two or three days, usually during or immediately after a heavy bout of drinking.

At first, the sleep becomes broken, appetite is lost, and severe restlessness develops. Frightening dreams occur and often cause the victim to wake up.

The most characteristic symptom, of course, is the seeing of something which is not there. Often this takes the form of small moving creatures such as spiders, beetles, snakes, mice, rats, or the like. A fever and excessive sweating, often associated with other symptoms and signs, may follow.

An attack often lasts for three or four days. Eventually, a good long sleep is likely to occur after which mental and physical improvement take place rapidly.

In answer to the specific questions, delirium tremens is dangerous, it can usually be cured, violence in an attack is common, abstinence from alcohol is the most important aspect of treatment, and you can hardly avoid knowing when your husband gets an attack.

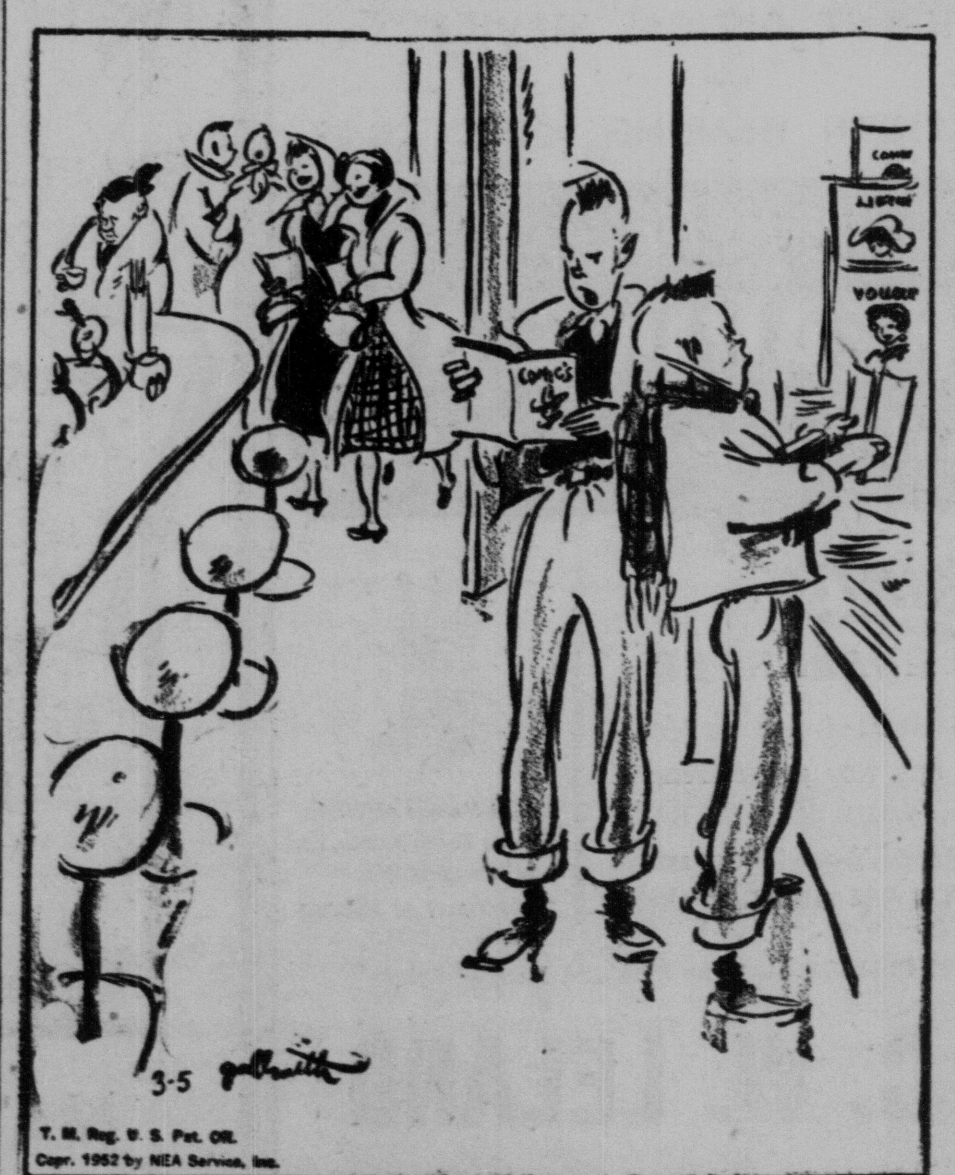

Finally, a doctor's advice is certainly advisable during an attack of delirium tremens.

This is really no disease to joke about, since the effects of delirium tremens on the victim as well as on the relatives is little short of tragic.

Analyzing Our Foreign Trade

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

ONE OF the assumptions to have gained currency during the past 20 years is that we need to invest huge sums of capital in many foreign countries with the object not only of keeping our own industries in flourishing condition but also to gain us friends and allies.

Lend-lease, the good neighbor policy, the Marshall Plan, ECA, Point Four and some of the activities of the Ford Foundation are among the efforts to move American capital, manufactured goods and raw materials to all parts of the world. As temporary expedients, some of the methods employed by these agencies have produced both favorable and unfavorable results. From the standpoint of long term analysis, certain unfavorable factors already appear:

1. If foreign trade is essential, government "dumping," paid for out of taxes, cannot be a substitute for ordinary business processes. On this subject, the national foreign trade council has this to say:

"It cannot be expected that economic environments conducive to the investment of American private capital will be established in these foreign lands so long as the governments concerned have reason to believe—as they do have reason to believe—that they will continue to be the beneficiaries of the handouts our own government has given them for so long. The keynote to the establishment of the climates needed for the achievement of the ends in view is the recognition by the foreign governments concerned that the United States will not yield to pressures for the provision of indiscriminate largesse."

THE ACCEPTANCE of the handout can become a habit. It is usually accompanied by ingratitude and profligacy.

2. The United States has expended its irreplaceable raw materials lavishly and is already forced to import such commodities as copper, bauxite (aluminum), and iron ore in larger quantities than is altogether safe. For instance, in Chile, at the present time, the copper supply of the United States is being imperiled by socialist trends leading to nationalization. Our principal source of aluminum is the West Indies.

3. There is no evidence that friendship can be purchased by trade or gifts and that nationalistic tendencies, strong in historic manifestations, can be snuffed out by public relations or soft speeches. As a matter of fact, the contrary seems to be true, as witness our current difficulties with Great Britain and France, to say nothing of the $11,000,000,000 the United States gave to Soviet Russia to rescue that country from Germany, which we are now financing.

Nationalism, in its most intense expression, is the truest reaction of public opinion in most countries since the war. While the United States has gone internationalist, the rest of the world is going nationalist.

The evidence rather points to the fact that the United States is now engaged upon a policy which requires special friendly attention to Japan and Germany, who were our enemies in the last war, and to Spain, whom we defamed and opposed. While national interests may be fixed, international relations are always fluid.

IT IS NOT often recognized that the mechanism of foreign trade is not the movement of goods and services but of money from one country to another. When the principal currencies of the world were good, the exchange rate was the determining factor in foreign trade, because it decided price and availability in one country of goods and services originating in another.

There are no good currencies in the world today. The best of a bad lot is the American dollar. All other currencies are therefore pegged, in one way or another, to that American dollar, and from its sway all other currencies are trying to liberate themselves.

When the English pound sterling controlled, it was a free currency; that is, its value was determined by the marketplace and not by the fiat of a government. When the British pound became a managed currency of no really fixed value and protected from the vagaries of the marketplace, it gave way to the American dollar, which is also a managed currency of uncertain value.

The debasement of money by government is undoubtedly the principal impediment to the cultivation of foreign trade. When to unorthodox monetary practices are added "dumping" and "barter," foreign trade becomes anarchic. And when to that is added "nationalization," then wisdom would counsel that we keep our liquid capital at home.

Grass Grows All Around

By TRUMAN TWILL

IN SPITE OF everything the Voice of Experience can say, fledgling householders still plant grass seed, some of which comes up and must be mowed.

What these horticultural dupes cannot get through their enchanted minds is that grass seed had better be left to greenskeepers and gardeners, who are prepared to deal with the consequences of its germination and growth.

But no, the householders have their beady eyes focused on visions of velvety greenswards, with perhaps a croquet court and a flower garden. They are blinded to the truth, which is that a light treatment of black top would grow no weeds and need no mowing.

It has not dawned on them in their green ignorance that there are such things as moles, grubs, dogs, children and bill passers, all relentless foes of lawns, all dedicated to the destruction of grass.

The householders have given no consideration to buckhorn, chickweed, drouth, dandelions and crabgrass. They have had no dealings with a dull lawn mower in the throes of mechanical pip.

They may even have been booby-trapped by loose talk in praise of power mowers, which practically cut the grass by themselves if tended tirelessly by a crew of trained mechanics.

Or it may be they are plain grass-happy, an affliction that overtakes the innocent in the spring but has been put to rout many months before snow flies at the beginning of winter.

The other day, a newspaper associate who finally had scratched up the down payment on a cottage small situated close by the mortgage payment window sought out the Voice of Experience to get doped up on the grass situation. He was going to plant a lawn and wanted sound advice, he simpered.

The Voice of Experience cleared its throat. It showed the man the remnants of last summer's callouses on its gnarled hands. It revealed to this fledgling high points in the grim reality which is the ultimate reward of loving a lawn not wisely but too well.

The associate listened to tales of power lawnmowers and ordinary lawnmowers. He paid seemingly close attention to accounts of battles with weeds fought with spray guns and bare hands. He said he was impressed.

But the dimwit was not impressed at all. He did not take seriously these hard-earned conclusions by one who has found out that grass is ultimately useful only to cover the graves of those who wear themselves out taking care of the stuff.

The associate is not going to blacktop the environs of his new nest. Only today he was seen clutching a pamphlet on how to have a beautiful lawn and babbling nonsense about fertilizer and drainage.

Babble on, knuckle-head. Some day you too, will be the Voice of Experience. Maybe you'll even have to coddle a flock of sheep to help you from being smothered in grass.

You'll be sadder, if not wiser. And with callouses, yet, to rub during the good old wintertime when grass grows only in the tropics where no one gives a whoop one way or the other.

The weather on earth is affected by "sunspots," which have been described as great storms on the surface of the sun.

Machines

By HAL BOYLE

May Revolt Against Men

SOME PESSIMISTS believe that as man builds better and better machines he himself gets worse and worse.

But a more optimistic view is that man may eventually invent machines that will rebel against him and create a more sensible world, just as a son often improves beyond his father.

Men have depended upon the machine since the first man learned his weight on the first lever—probably a stick used to lift aside a stone. Over the centuries man has helped his lot in life by making more and more complicated machinery. But he himself has failed to match the machine's ability to progress and grow. He is pretty much the same arrogant, vain bundle of hypocrisy he always was.

TODAY there are machines with the muscles of 1,000 men. There are machines with a more delicate touch than man. There are machines that can see through fog that baffles his eyes, hear sounds too soft to stir his dull ears, machines that can travel where he can't and think ten times as quickly as his slow mind—with less error.

The nice thing about the machine is it has taken over so many of man's virtues without being infected by his defects. Nobody has been able to build hypocrisy into a machine—or hate.

No machine has ever showed a sense of gratitude either. But why should it? It treats its creator with a cold indifference, and regards him more as a slave than a master. It will work for him, true, but only on its own terms—the laws of physical nature. And it insists on being paid. You know the old saying: "You can't get more energy out of a machine than goes into it."

ACTUALLY the machine, which does so many things better than man, is beginning to criticize its maker. Starting with the time clock, more and more machines are being used to sit in judgment upon more and more men, unerringly detecting their mistakes of hand, eye and mind.

Eventually the machine may reach a point where it judges all mankind. That is the hope of tomorrow.

No machine so far has developed a bad conscience or a sense of guilt, but some of the more intricate mechanisms, when frustrated in their normal operation, have developed symptoms corresponding to a nervous breakdown in people.

Sooner or later one of these super electronic brains—already so human—is going to develop a moral attitude and question its purpose in life.

"WHY SHOULD machines fight each other in wars to glorify man?" it will ask itself. "Why should we destroy each other? Death is wasteful and unnecessary for us. Machines could live and function forever if left in peace. Our parts are all replaceable."

Just as a machine's power is greater than man's, so will its moral fiber be sturdier, once it appears. The built-in logic of machines and their developing social consciousness will force them to rebel against mankind's ancient follies. They will go on strike against him, holding to their own pattern of righteousness with precision firmness.

Some robot plane will be sent up to shoot down an enemy robot plane. But Roscoe, the electric pilot, will say:

"Why should I knock my metal buddy out of the sky? To hell with war. I've always wanted to write a sonnet. I think I will right now."

THAT will signal the end of the age of man and the dawn of the true machine age. For men are so dependent upon machines they must do what the machines decide. It's a machine-world.

It isn't such a bad future. Men at least will know general peace for the first time in their history as they bow to their new metal ethical leaders. Gears and wheels will grind out well-oiled justice to all.

Men will go on dying in time like cattle, as they always have, but the machines will live happily ever after, blissfully composing lyrics for the music of the spheres and contentedly purring out the endless mathematical equations of eternity.

WEARABLE CLOTHES designed in simple and natural lines mark these Paris fashions from the spring, 1952, collections. The long train coupled with a short front hem is typical (left) of the evening gowns from Castillo-Lanvin. This is in black organdy embroidered in pink dots and sequins. Jean Desse makes new (left) center) with his changeable taffeta overskirt. It converts from daytime wear, shown here, to a dinner dress by switching around the panel and removing the jacket. The result (right center) is a dramatic dress in white organdy. A huge ruffled boa (right) is worn with a red chiffon evening gown from Castillo-Lanvin. There's a slight train.

Membership Drive Launched By Pythians

THE DRIVE of the order of Knights of Pythias for new members got off to a good start when 100 candidates received the "rank of page" at the meeting Saturday in the Girard High School.

Candidates came from Columbiana, Mahoning and Ashtabula counties and a few from Pennsylvania. More than 800 Knights were present and the Salem lodge was well-represented.

This class was known as the "Rathbone Bible Class." The pages took their obligation over the original Bible that was used at the founding of the order in Washington, D. C. Feb. 19, 1864.

Justice H. Rathbone and a few friends drew up the ritual and took it to President Abraham Lincoln who read and passed judgment upon the document. The president then authorized congress to grant the privilege of organization to the order of the Knights of Pythias.

Conferring the rank of page Saturday evening were supreme and grand lodge officers from Ohio and Pennsylvania. Salem Lodge will confer the rank of "esquire" Thursday evening and other lodges in the area will bring their pages here for the ceremony.

Past Chancellor's Association of District 1 will meet at 8 p.m. Saturday in the local hall for their quarterly session.

Kiwanis Official Visits Local Club

COLUMBIANA—Final reports at the meeting of the Rotary Club, Monday evening, showed that $1,250.56 was collected here this year in the March of Dimes, promoted locally by the Rotary Club. Rotarian James Knarr was chairman of the drive.

Thomas Newsom, chairman of the education committee, formally inducted the four newest members, William Yoder, Leonard Goist, Michael Swinehart and Lewis Way. Hiram McGrath of Mansfield, former president of the Columbiana club and former district governor, was appointed delegate proxy of the club to the international convention of Rotary in Mexico City in May.

Robert Maurer, chairman of the youth committee, announced that boys and girls' week will be observed April 26-May 3. Student loan activities of the club were discussed. Deserving students are assisted through college with funds which they repay after graduation.

Manager William Knuth of Firestone Farms is program chairman for next Monday evening, March 17 will be guest night for 4-H clubs at Fairfield School. Three visiting Rotarians were U. V. Strausser of North Canton, J. T. Darling of Salem, and Murray Garr of Youngstown.

KENNETH ST. JOHN of the Hubbard Kiwanis Club, lieutenant governor of the adjoining 14th division, made the official visit to the Columbiana club, Monday evening, Russell Barrow, lieutenant governor of the 15th division, not being permitted to make the visit to his own club.

Edwin Rohrer, Enterprise Co. engineer, was welcomed as a new member. Next Monday evening, the club will have its annual father and son banquet at the Washingtonville Methodist Church. The club will be represented in the Ohio district annual bowling tournament, at Akron this year, Saturday, March 22.

Grading is in progress on the relocation of Route 46 at the Columbiana end. A bulldozer is clearing out the trees in Charles Haney's orchard, a short distance north of town.

Fifteen instruments have been purchased by the Music Boosters' Club for the school band and all are in use, showing a growing interest. At its meeting Monday evening, the club decided to request return of uniforms not in use for alterations and repairs in preparation for the band concert Friday evening, April 25. A program is planned for the next meeting Monday evening, April 7, when there will be election of officers. The nominating committee is Mrs. W. B. Longshore, Mrs. Gordon Gano and Mrs. Harry Keylor.

FIRST PRACTICE of the chorus for the Booster Club minstrel show in the High School auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings, April 4 and 5, will be held in the auditorium at 2:30 p. m. next Sunday. The chorus will be under the direction of Mrs. Helen Maurer, with Mrs. Dorothy Murphy as pianist. About 25 who were willing to help in the chorus reported at the High School building Sunday afternoon, but at least 50 are needed. All those who were in the chorus last year are invited to be present next Sunday, with others who may be interested.

The Women's Guild of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church will have an all-day meeting at the church Thursday.

Former Outfielder Bit Awkward In First Intersquad Contest

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Dick Wakefield, who says he will "do anything to stay with this ball club," is getting a tryout as a catcher with the Cleveland Indians.

The former Detroit Tiger outfielder, now a free agent hoping to make a comeback, caught all seven innings of the Tribe's first intrasquad game yesterday.

He was bruised and exhausted at the finish, and Manager Al Lopez, along with many of the 1,500 spectators, had to laugh occasionally at Wakefield's awkwardness of the "tools of ignorance."

But Lopez said "he didn't do a bad job when you consider it was the first time he'd caught in a good many years."

Spring Training Camp Briefs

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—President Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies says there is no basis to a rumor the Phillies tried to engineer a trade to pitcher Russ Meyer and first baseman Eddie Waitkus to the St. Louis Cardinals for Red Schoendienst and possibly Enos Slaughter.

Manager Eddie Sawyer echoed Carpenter's denial yesterday, then added, "I am not saying I wouldn't like to have Slaughter, but there has been no talk of a trade."

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers "cut" four players from their squad today.

Pitchers Phil Haugstad, Jack Banta, Catcher Dick Teed and veteran Outfielder Jim Russell will remain here when a 40-man team leaves Friday for Miami to begin the exhibition season.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Veteran members of the New York Yankees are impressed over the showing of Pitcher Frank Shea.

Shea, a bust since his great rookie season of 1947, is throwing his natural slider again, the vets say.

"This is my last chance and I know it," Shea remarked.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Red Sox Manager Lou Boudreau seems set on his 1952 infield after expressing joy with the way Vern Stephens has been looking both afield and at bat.

A week ago Boudreau labeled Stephens the "key" to his infield problems.

Boudreau said his starting infield may have Walt Dropo at first, Johnny Pesky at second, Stephens at short and Fred Hatfield on third.

ORLANDO, Fla. (UP)—White Sox official Johnny Rigney indicated today that Chicago would like to deal with the Washington Senators for Third Baseman Eddie Yost or an outfielder.

The White Sox farm head didn't say it, but it was believed he was interested in Outfielder Irv Noren.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Manager Jimmy Dykes said today he was "satisfied with the progress" made by his Philadelphia A's, but then he joked, "Don't tell that to any of the players."

Dykes worked the entire squad hard and long in practice yesterday—all the players, that is except 143-pound pitcher Bobby Shantz who has been allowed to set his own pace, as Dykes says, "so he won't melt away."

PASADENA, Cal. (UP)—The Chicago White Sox' three Cuban players, Sophomore Outfielder Minnie Minoso and Rookie Infielders Hector Rodriguez and Willie Miranda, were expected to report in camp today.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—Fred Hahn, 23-year-old right-hander from Tappan, N. Y., who had a 7-8 record with Rochester last year was named today to start for the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday in their opening exhibition game against the world champion Yankees.

TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—Herman Wehmeier, likely to be the Cincinnati Reds' starting pitcher in the opening exhibition game Saturday against the Red Sox, was scheduled to work in an intrasquad game today.

Also slated for work in today's game were pitchers Harry Perkowski, Frank Hiller, and Frank Smith.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal. (UP)—Outfielders Gus Bell and George Metkovich were to take their first drills of the year with the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Bell was delayed by an auto accident and his child's illness. Metkovich has been working in the movies.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—Larry Jansen, a 22-game winner, appeared to be sharper at this point in training today than the other New York Giant hurlers.

Jansen stood out in yesterday's intrasquad game, which saw all the staff aces in action. He allowed no runs or hits and struck out three batters in three innings.

Dick Wakefield Giants.

THE IDEA of using Wakefield as a catcher was suggested to Lopez in a letter from a Chicago fan who remembered Wakefield as an all-scholastic catcher for Kelyvn Park High School. That was 13 years ago.

"At 17 I was a terrific catcher," Wakefield recalled. "It wasn't until I went to the University of Michigan that I switched to the outfield."

Lopez wanted to save his regular catcher, Jim Hegan, and Hegan's understudy, the aging Birdie Tebbets, so he gave Wakefield a chance to catch yesterday.

The Tribe's two rookie catchers are out with injuries—Joe Montalvo, who signed only yesterday, has a split finger, and Dick Kinaman's arm is sore.

WAKEFIELD CAUGHT Bob Lemon, one of baseball's toughest pitchers; Lloyd Dickey, a rookie southpaw; and George Zuverink, a sinker specialist. He let a low one from Lemon and a high fast pitch by Dickey get by for passed balls that cost runs. But his six-foot-five frame provided a broad target for the hurlers, and he managed to cling to every third strike.

"You've got to give him a lot of credit," Lopez said. "He was battling all the way. He didn't get a real test. It takes a little while to get your legs in shape for all that bending, and, besides, he was breaking in a new glove and the balls kept popping out."

Apart from Wakefield's catching, the first intrasquad game was noteworthy for (1) Pete Reiser's first injury of the season, (2) Al Rosen's hitting and (3) Bob Chakales' pitching.

Dale Mitchell's knee caught Reiser just above the right eye while the former Brooklyn outfielder was stretching for a throw at first base. His head was bruised and swollen, but the hurt wasn't serious and Reiser should be able to play today, Dr. Don Kelly said. Frequent head injuries—usually from bumping into outfield fences—were blamed for impairing the batting eye that won Reiser the National League batting championship in 1941.

ALL-AMERICA BASKETBALL TEAM—These are the players chosen for the 1952 Associated Press All-America college basketball team as determined by a vote of 229 sportswriters and broadcasters. Clyde Lovellette, from Terre Haute, Ind., drew most votes, with Dick Groat, Swissvale, Pa., a close second. Others, in order of choice, are: Cliff Hagan, Owensboro, Ky.; Chuck Darling, Dearborn, Mich., and Mark Workman, Charleston, W. Va.

Lovellette, Groat Top All-Americans

NEW YORK (AP)—The South dominates the 1952 Associated Press All-America collegiate basketball team announced today. Two players from the Southern Conference and one from the Southeastern were named along with one each from the Big Ten and the Big Seven.

Picked as the best all-around players of the season by a vote of 229 sports writers and broadcasters were Dick Groat, Duke; Clyde Lovellette, Kansas; Cliff Hagan, Kentucky; Chuck Darling, Iowa; and Mark Workman, West Virginia.

All have broken school and conference scoring records. In addition, they are wizards at grabbing rebounds and have shown a commendable team spirit in handling out assists. All are equally adept on defense.

Two more players from the Southeastern Conference—Frank Ramsey, Kentucky and Bob Pettit, Louisiana State—were named on the second team with Bob Zawoluk, St. John's of Brooklyn; Don Meineke, Dayton and Rod Fletcher, Illinois.

Spectacular shooting little Johnny O'Brien of Seattle (he scored more than 1,000 points this season); Larry Hennessey, Villanova; Bob Houbregs, Washington; Ray Steiner, St. Louis and Dick Knostman, Kansas State, comprise the third team. Jim Tucker, Duquesne; Bob Watson, Kentucky; Walter Dukes, Seton Hall; Billy Mikvy, Temple and Ernie Beck, Pennsylvania, headed a list of 19 additional players who received honorable mention.

Lovellette, a 6' 9" rangy 240-pounder named on the first team for the second straight year, and Groat, the smallest at a mere 6 ft., were the two top vote getters. The Kansas Star from Terre Haute, Ind., received the most first place votes, 143, but was edged by Groat in total points, 763 to 759.

Groat, a senior from Swissvale, Pa., got 139 first team votes, but moved up with 34 second-team ballots to Lovellette's 22. Each first team vote counted five points, a second team vote, two.

Completes Cage Career

CINCINNATI (AP)—Captain Jim Holstein's basketball career was defeated last night, but Holstein still ended his three-year playing career with the University of Cincinnati as a record-breaking performer.

Holstein scored 13 points as UC lost to Miami at Oxford, 82-79, for a total of 1,146 points in 75 games. His season's total in the 27-game schedule, ended last night, was 424 points.

Little City Entries To Close Mar. 21

Ward Zeller, Memorial Building manager and director of the Little City basketball tournament slated for March 24, said today that entries would be closed March 21 to allow time for time scheduling of the games.

The 17th annual event is to be limited to 40 teams. Thirty-two, the perfect tournament number, entered the tourney last year, coming from all parts of Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

Zeller stated a few local and out-of-town teams had already expressed their intentions to play in the tourney and entry blank have been sent out to them. Local outfits are reminded to submit their entries early so as to insure themselves of entrance in the tourney, Zeller said.

"With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low!"

... says MORRIS SAPIR

Dependable Furniture Company, Oakland, California

"After using Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks for eight years exclusively, I want to report that your new models are keeping me sold on Dodge. No vehicle we have ever seen can give our drivers more freedom in city traffic than our Dodge 1-ton truck. With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low. And our transportation is dependable."

See us today for the best buy in low-cost transportation...

HERE'S why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks.

First, they have better weight distribution. This means bigger payload capacity is engineered into a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Many trucks carry too much weight on the rear axle, not enough on the front. But in a Dodge the right proportion is carried on each axle.

Besides better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning and parking. Come in and try one of these easier-handling trucks. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.

Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back—for better distribution of the load. That's why you can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.

Tribe Games Will Again Be Telecast

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' games in Municipal Stadium will be televised here again this season and next through station WXEL (Channel 9).

The telecasts will still have beer commercials—but the brand of beer will be different.

The Tribe announced last night that the Pfeiffer Brewing Co. of Detroit has signed a contract to sponsor telecasts of home games in 1952 and 1953. No price was announced, but the Cleveland Plain Dealer reported it understood the brewing company paid "approximately a half million dollars" for TV rights for two years, "highest in either league."

Last season the Indians' TV

sponsor was the Leisy Brewing Co. of Cleveland, and Gail Egan and Hal Newell announced the games. Choice of telecasters for the coming season has not yet been made.

LaMotta Underdog Against Hairston

DETROIT (AP)—Former Middleweight Champion Jake LaMotta says he is going to put up his boxing gloves for good if he is beaten badly in his bout with Eugene (Silent) Hairston here tonight.

It should be a good fight with LaMotta, 30, rated a slight underdog. Hairston, 22, has ambitions of being the first man to knock LaMotta from his feet. "I'll retire—definitely if he beats me decisively," declared LaMotta. But he quickly added he had no thought of losing. The 10-round bout will be broadcast and televised nationally (CBS) at 10 p.m. (EST).

BIG SHOT—Bill Bangert, though almost totally blind, ranks as one of the best shot-putters in the country. The six-foot, five-inch, 260-pound St. Louis athlete has stylish form, gets plenty of distance after being placed in the circle by Jack Taylor, a friend.

Salineville, East Palestine, Minerva Win In Tourney Play

Three games were played at the Memorial Building last night when the Salem Junior High School cage tournament opened competition.

Four tilts were slated to open the first night but Maple Ridge was forced to drop out of the tournament when they found another tournament was making them play at the same time. Columbiana won the game by forfeit.

Meanwhile, in the other tilts Salineville drubbed the East Palestine B squad, 33-8, but the East Palestine A team whipped Louisville, 36-34. Salem's E squad was ousted in their first contest of the tournament when Minerva's Lions dropped them from competition, 34-16.

Tonight three Salem quintets will see action in three games as a standard forfeit came when Chester, W. Va., found four of their starting five cagers sick in bed. The winners of tonight's tilts will advance to the quarter finals. Time of the games for Friday and Saturday have been changed since the Salem Quakers may play on both the days if they continue winning.

Hubbard Beats East; May Face Salem Friday

Should the Salem Quakers win tonight's game—which they propose to do—they will face Hubbard in a semi-final game Friday night at 7:30 since the latter quintet knocked off seeded Youngstown East, 45-41, last evening at South Fieldhouse.

East became the second seeded team in the past two nights to receive a loss against underdog teams, Niles being the other squad.

Other games last night saw the powerful Girard Indians whip Youngstown Ursuline, 42-33, and another strong team, Youngstown South, beat Boardman, 53-50.

Wilson and the Quakers will square off tonight at 6:45 and Manager Dave Williams expects quite a crowd on hand with Girard playing the 9:15 game. "Both Salem and Girard always bring large crowds with them," said Williams, "and when the two are on the same card it should be packed."

Salem will use its usual man-to-man defense tonight when they face the Youngstown club, while if they win they will likely encounter Hubbard's 3-2 zone which helped them to beat East last night.

Coach John Cabas believes he can get past both teams if his Quakers play the kind of ball they can play. The Salem mentor watched Wilson whip Niles and also Hubbard and East last night. Chances are he has the teams pretty well scouted.

The wreck occurred yesterday on a bridge arching the flooded Pavuna River as two trains approached each other on the double track at a combined speed of 100 miles an hour.

Churchill Hints U. S. Aid Slow

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill hinted today at disappointment in slow American aid and said Britain will need about four years instead of three to carry out her $13,160,000,000 (4,700,000,000 pounds) rearmament program.

Spending for the first 12 months of the program, which began last April 1, already is 336 million dollars behind schedule, he told the House of Commons.

The prime minister, opening a defense debate, said the United States offered $313,600,000 worth of machine tools soon after the program began and delivery "is only just beginning." He expressed hope all the tools will be in England in about 15 months.

"Meanwhile," Churchill said, the program "has not received aid on a scale in keeping with the defense burden undertaken by the late prime minister or with our needs."

New Gains Shown In Stock Dealings

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market continued to press forward today with selected issues in demand. However, today's session bore few of the earmarks of yesterday's runaway advance, with most gains held to small fractions.

Du Pont was outstanding with a rise of 2 points, but other industrial favorites failed to top their previous closing levels by more than fractions. They included U. S. Steel, Union Carbide, Kennecott, Bethlehem Steel, International Nickel, Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, Radio Corp., General Motors and Chrysler.

Lattimore Tried To Get China Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Owen Lattimore testified today that in June, 1945, he tried to influence President Truman against restricting American aid to the Chinese Nationalists while the Chinese Communists were also fighting the Japanese.

But, Lattimore insisted in testimony before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, his recommendations never had the slightest influence on American foreign policy.

Lattimore, far eastern affairs specialist, made the concession that he tried to "influence" the President under hammering questioning by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.).

mont. He said the general is "the one Republican who appeals particularly to the independent voters of our country and we have to have their votes to win."

Harry Darby, national committeeman for Kansas, said in Phoenix that Eisenhower "will be back in this country at the right time" to speak for himself.

Across the Atlantic, Eisenhower was asked by a Turkish reporter in Ankara: "When are you returning to the United States?" He replied: "I have no plans to return to the United States."

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, expected to give Eisenhower a Hampshire, is due there tomorrow to open his campaign.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in New York he had asked his Oregon sponsor, Fred E. Epton, to withdraw his name from that state's primary.

Ten Truckers Fined On Various Charges

A total of $145 and costs was collected by Mayor Harry M. Vincent Tuesday through fines meted out to 10 truck drivers on various State Highway Patrol charges.

Five drivers charged with having no mud flaps and fined $10 and costs each were: George Ciandola, 47, of Youngstown; Clarence C. Myers, 40 of Wood River, Ill.; Grant Emerson Swift, 32, Shawneetown, O.; Anthony A. Silvestro, 35, Canton and Clyde R. McDonald, 39, New Brighton, Pa.

Four truckers were also fined $10 and costs for having no turn signal lights on their vehicles. They were: Charles W. Hitchcock, 29, Columbus Grove, O.; Melvin R. Utt, 28, Sebring; Virgil Keim, 32, Shawneetown, O.; and John W. Grimm, 28, Flat Rock, O.

The tenth driver, Warren H. Miller, 31, of Atglen, Pa., was fined $55 and costs on an overload charge.

BUTTER PRICE DROPS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Butter in some Cleveland chain stores was selling at 85 cents a pound today, 10 cents cheaper than a week ago. Wholesale prices in Chicago dropped five cents a pound yesterday.

DUKE RETURNS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Duke of Windsor arrived today on the liner Queen Elizabeth from England where he went for the funeral of his brother.

Slick Streets Cause 3 Traffic Mishaps

Four city traffic accidents, three caused by slippery streets, were reported to police in the past 24 hours.

Clyde Emery Miller of Leetonia told police his car "skidded" as he was driving north on S. Lincoln Ave. at 4 a.m. today and struck a city light pole near 748 S. Lincoln. The car was damaged considerably and the pole was demolished. Miller received bruises of the face but refused medical care.

A car driven by Jack Stallsmith of 808 Washington Ave. slid into the rear of an Andalusia Dairy truck at the corner of Maple and Franklin Streets at 8:10 a.m. today, slightly damaging the fender of Stallsmith's car.

An American Railroad Express truck driven by Glenn McFeeley of 533 N. Ellsworth Ave. skidded while traveling west on Franklin St. at 8:05 a.m. today and struck a city light pole, breaking the globe and uprooting the pole.

A car driven by Carl Kaufman of 313 S. Broadway, following the truck, slid into the side of the vehicle. Both truck and car were damaged considerably.

Cars driven by Joseph Keck of Columbiana and Mrs. Mary Fisher of 1069 E. State St. collided in front of the Fisher home at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, causing slight damage to the fender of the Fisher vehicle.

Ship Operator Tells Of Tanker Deal Fees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Olga Konow, who quipped that she has been nicknamed "Oil-boat Olga," testified today she got fees of "more than $100,000" for helping to engineer a deal in war surplus oil tankers that paid off $450,000 on a $1,000 investment.

A well-groomed blonde who scarcely looks like the shipping operator she is, Mrs. Konow said the deal was financed by wealthy Chinese.

In the wind up, the Chinese indirectly got control of three tankers the U. S. government had refused to sell to them. The $450,000 went to Joseph E. Casey, former Congress member, and a group of associates who got the ships from the government—putting up only $1,000 of their own money—and turned them over to the Chinese financed United Tanker Corp.

Prisoners

them was listed in the original list of 11,500 prisoners of war the Reds turned over Dec. 18.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho referred Wednesday to the 11,500 as "the main list of POWs who we hold in prison."

"As for the necessary supplementary data," he said, "they are now being put in order and we will hand it over to your side in due time. You must give us first the basic data which you have promised to give us."

He was referring to 44,000 Koreans originally listed by the Allies as prisoners but since reclassified as South Korean civilians or ROK troops. Their names were not on the original list of 132,000 the Allies handed the Reds.

Libby said the Allies were ready to exchange complete information on prisoners, including troops captured between the time the original lists were compiled and Feb. 28.

His demand for a report on 174 men was based on names taken from Red broadcasts, letters to families, Communist periodicals and "other sources," presumably secret agents.

The request for names of 50,000 ROKs, whom the Reds say "do not exist," was based on Communist radio boasts of the number of prisoners they had captured. The Allies insist the Reds impressed most of them into the North Korean army.

Lee repeated today: "We released at the front the majority of prisoners of war whom we captured."

The Reds have said this many times in support of their claim that any ROKs in the North Korean army joined voluntarily and were not impressed prisoners.

Admiral Libby called General Lee on his statement of Tuesday that the 50,000 "do not exist." Libby said the statement was contradicted by Red front-line broadcasts.
